Add in the missing verb to create a present perfect sentence.

The school cook _____
baked a delicious cottage pie.

Today we are going to draw out the story extract we were using last week!

You can draw it out as a story map or in the style of a comic strip!

This will help make sure we understand the story fully and will help us to change the text from a story to a play script later this week!

An example of story mapping:

Write the plural forms of these singular nouns:

deer - _____

wolf - _____

sheep - _____

Today we are going to be planning out our play script.

Please choose either Playscript writing frame 1 or 2. Choose the sheet that you think best for you to plan the play script on. You will need to type the headings onto a word document or write them out. Please don't try to write over the original copies.

In school your teacher will go over how to fill these sheets in.

If you are at home the video will include us modelling this part for you!

Don't worry if you don't finish the whole text! We will be carrying on with this tomorrow!

Mr Whoops has got in a terrible muddle with his 'el', 'al' and 'le' endings. Can you help him to match each definition with the correct 'el', 'le' or 'al' ending?

The measurement of a turn. ang _____

An underground passage. tunn _____

Today we are simply carrying on with the work you were doing yesterday!

Keep working through the story extract from last week and change each part so it is in the correct format for playscript!

The video will model it for you if you are stuck!

Once you have finished you can go through and correct your own work!
Check the spellings and punctuation really carefully!

into strict near busy

Today we will be going through a comprehension.

It is a playscript you need to read and then answer the questions!

There are three different question sets, varying in difficulty and you can choose which set you answer!

Write a reflection on how you feel this week went for your English work.

What did you find tricky?

What are you feeling confident with?
